Attention: Recruitment Department

Dear Hiring Manager,

As a graduate of the HEC Paris Master in Management program with concrete M&A experience, I am eager to join Goldman Sachs as an Investment Banking Analyst within your M&A division. Having contributed to the execution of a €450M pharmaceutical transaction at Rothschild & Co, I am drawn to Goldman Sachs' leadership in complex transactions and its demand for analytical excellence. My expertise in financial modeling and my fluency in French and English position me to contribute immediately to your deal teams.

During my 6-month internship at Rothschild & Co, I actively participated in the execution of a €450M pharmaceutical M&A transaction, performing DCF and LBO financial modeling across 8 European markets. I optimized the comparable analysis process, reducing preparation time by 30%, which allowed senior bankers to accelerate client presentations. This experience also allowed me to develop the analytical rigor and attention to detail essential for the analyst role.

Beyond financial modeling, I demonstrated my synthesis and communication skills by preparing pitch books for C-suite executives, contributing to the securing of 3 mandates totaling €1.2B. This client-facing experience taught me the importance of translating complex analyses into clear strategic recommendations, a competency aligned with the client presentation responsibilities of the Goldman Sachs role.

Goldman Sachs' meritocratic approach and renowned training program match my commitment to excellence and continuous learning. My discussions with several analysts at the firm have confirmed the collaborative culture and intellectual rigor that characterize your teams, values that I fully share.

John DOE

I am available for an interview at your convenience and would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my M&A experience can contribute to Goldman Sachs' success. Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely, John DOE
